Financing climate action is a challenge for many local authorities. The project ideas laboratory is the highlight of this conference's offerings on financing. Hear from experts on various European funding programmes, discuss concrete project ideas with peers and get an edge on the partner search.

Call for project ideas: Do you have a good project idea for local climate action and are now looking for partners to take your ideas to the next step? Or do you know what you want to do but are not sure which funding programme to apply for? Tell us about it! - Fill in this form by 8 September and hopefully see your project realised with the contribution of other participants of the Conference!
